Golden Anniversary Sale

No more years Like '34-'35-'36

There will be no more years like 1934, 1935 and 1936 for Grey Gable's Shorthorns. When the drought burned midwestern pastures and fields to a crisp brown. This $7500 deep well irrigation unit installed this past summer by the Hultines is capable of producing 1100 gallons of water a minute and assures lush pastures and bumper feed and grain crops every year.

50 years with Polled Shorthorns

October 3, 1899, was the starting point with registered cattle at Grey Gables Stock Farm. The intention at that time was to buy a good registered bull at the E. J. Hays sale held that day at his farm close to York, Nebr.

The auctioneer was Col. F. M. WOODS. I still believe his presale talk was more convincing than any auctioneer I have ever heard. I may have been easy; at any rate, I fell for his plea and bought a registered cow, a fine broad backed red cow. I was really proud of her after bringing her home and comparing her with other cows. That was the start, an unexpected start. Interest was high and equally interesting in later years to select animals with a view of perfecting a still better cow or bull. In fact, the building up business is more interesting now than it was fifty years ago.

ALBERT HULTINE

I had heard of Polled Durhams but at that time did not know they were registered Shorthorns without horns. (In 1919 the name was changed to Polled Shorthorns. I had the honor of making that motion.)

The first sale offering was six horned bulls at a combination sale in 1904. While at this sale, Segrist, a fieldman, thoroughly explained Polled Durhams saying I could place a polled bull at the head of the herd and that a large percentage of the resulting calves would be polled. This at once looked like an improvement. He had a Polled Durham sale catalog of a J. C. Robinson sale at Harlan, Iowa. The day following our combination sale of horned Shorthorns, bids were sent on three head. However, sale reports later showed the bids were too low. Shortly after that a Polled Durham bull by the name of Lucky Lad was purchased, but he did not live up to his name. His calves, while seventy-five percent polled, were too rangy.

The following year the State Fair Champion Bull, Ottawa Gauntlet, was purchased. He proved a great sire as well as a hundred percent dehorner on either polled or horned cows.

In 1911 he was followed by the J. H. Miller, Peru, Indiana, bull Select Good, who had previously been a State Fair first prize winner and second at the International. He was followed by another Indiana bull, Roselawn Marshal, purchased from W. W. Rose & Son, Rossville, Indiana, who sired a lot of good calves, three of which became International grand champions. About this time, several granddaughters of the famous Shorthorn bull Whitehall Sultan were added to the herd.

Royal Count, first prize winner at the International, son of Roselawn Marshal, and out of Countess Duchess, a granddaughter of Whitehall Sultan, proved a top sire in the Dallas Miller Herd, Mulberry, Ind., siring Royal Count Jr., who made history in the Teegardin herd in Ohio. Oakwood Royal King, a grandson of Royal Count through Village Count, was an International grand champion and possibly the greatest sire in the Teegardin herd.

Village Count Jr., another grandson made himself famous in the Lewis Thiemman herd at Concordia, Missouri.

Golden Anniversary Sale

By this time the herd was strongly polled so the next herd bull was horned, Mysterious Dale, a line bred Avondale bull. Several of his get and grand-get became International grand champions. Mardale, a 2400 pound bull was Jr. Champion in 1924 and Grand Champion in 1925, also sire of an International Grand Champion. Dales Renown, another polled son of Mysterious Dale, sired three International grand champions, including Lord Collynie, who was a two times International Champion in 1926 and 1928. We believe him to be the greatest improver in modern Polled Shorthorns of the entire breed. His dam was Snowcloud, a polled daughter of Lord Barmpton and out of the imported cow, Snowdrift, bred by James Durno.

His blood seems to carry on from one generation to another more successfully than any other bull we know of, not only in our herd but in others. His blood is widely scattered.

Scottish Daybreak 9th, a granddaughter of Mardale through Mardale 4th, was grand champion cow at the 1931 International. When mated to Lord Collynie, she produced Daybreaks Collynie, an extremely deep bodied and thick fleshed bull who transmitted these qualities freely to his offspring. Almost all of his daughters were heavy milkers.

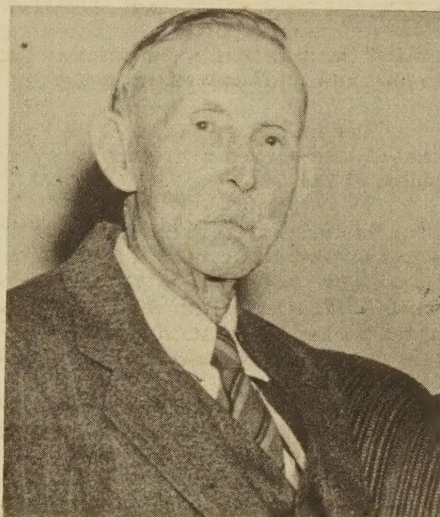

The Cherry Hill Farms bull, Collynie Compact, perhaps today's most famous Polled Shorthorn sire, is out of a daughter of Daybreaks Collynie and sired by Collynie Fascinator. He was sold in 1944 at Four thousand dollars to Cherry Hill Farms, Reisterstown, Maryland. One of his first daughters at Cherry Hill sold at $3500. There are still seven daughters of Collynie Compact left on the farm.

Riverdale, grand champion bull at Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska State Fairs in 1946, was used until a year ago last May when he was sold at $5000 to W. H. McCeney Jr., Silver Springs, Maryland. He is a line bred Lord Collynie bull, sired by Lynnwood Nugget, by Fascinator by Collynie Fascinator; his dam Lady Daybreak 2nd, by Collynie Fascinator and second dam Lady Daybreak by Daybreak Collynie. Lynnwood Nugget is used jointly by Lynnwood Farm, Carmel, Indiana, and by Carl Cross, Rockford, Ohio.

Because our Polled Shorthorns have always had to make money for us, we have always strived to breed the kind that are profitable to raise under average, normal, farm and range conditions.

The breed has come a long way since 1899. We are glad to have had a small part in it's development. Most certainly a great future lies ahead for those breeders willing to give their best to its further development and growth.

We believe the 50 head we are selling on October 6th, can and will help do a better job of correcting faults and making improvements in those herds to which they may go. We especially invite all friends of the breed and especially each and every one of the hundreds of our former customers to be our guests on October 6th.

E. J. Hays of York, Nebraska, who sold Albert Hultine his first Shorthorns on October 3, 1899. Mr. Hays will be 93 years old in November of this year and still lives at York, Nebraska.

COLLYNIE COMPACT

In his yearling form and his three owners, Floyd, Albert and Cleo Hultine. This photo was taken in 1944 when Collynie Compact was sold for $4000 to Cherry Hill Farms, Reisterstown, Maryland. Since that time Collynie Compact has brought National fame to Cherry Hill. He has been the sire of the 1947, 1948 and 1949 National Polled Shorthorn Congress champion females. These three head alone were sold by Cherry Hill for a total of $6950.

Continuous Breed Improvement

Through fifty years, Albert Hultine's breed improvement program has been sound. Each generation of cattle has made improvement through the use of a select group of herd sires. Beyond that of good care and good feeding and development, the determining factor in the success of anyone in the cattle business seems to be that breeder's ability to select and develop sires that will be prepotent. Few men have this uncanny ability. . . Albert Hultine is one of them. He has been one of the pioneers of the Polled Shorthorn breed. The cattle of his breeding have won championships at the greatest exhibitions. Against unprecedently discouraging conditions--prolonged drought, nation wide depression, devastating fire, he remained steadfast, produced cattle that improved the breed and emerged and acknowledged success. When the BUILDERS OF THE BREED were first recognized by a national committee in the Shorthorn World in 1933, Albert Hultine was the first choice over the nation to head this list.

His sons, Lloyd and Cleo, have been able assistants in herd management, his grandsons and great-grandsons are beginning to enter the picture, definite assurance that the great work he is carrying on will always continue to be in good hands in the future.

From such many years of careful work and effort you stand to profit by buying in this Hultine's Golden Anniversary Sale. It's as good a breeding as you will want for foundation, herd replacement or herd building, so I do hope you will plan to be at Lincoln, Nebraska, on October 6th.

RIVERSIDE CONTROL has about everything wanted in a herd sire. His sire among the best was good enough to bring $1650. and dam one of the deepest bodied daughters of Collynie Fascinator and half sister to Collynie Compact. Think of him as individual, think of his immediate back ground also think of Lord Collynie and compare the two, we have several cows mated to him. Perhaps a mistake is made in selling him.
